Congressman Speaks To Service Clubs

rotary Club vice president and George Morris, Levittown Lions Club vice president. The Exchange Club has played host to all local service clubs at a series of luncheon meetings featuring political candidates as guest speakers. (Courier-Times Photo)

Curtin Cites His Local Experience

By JIM STANTON
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Congressman Willard S. Curtin told 80 members of local service clubs yesterday that during his years as congressman, district attorney, and lawyer, he has come to know the problems of the Bucks - Lehigh area. He then asked their support in the coming November elections.

Speaking to the Levittown Exchange and Lions clubs, the Levittown - Fairless Hills Rotary and the Bristol Rotary, at the Pennsylvania Inn, Congressman Curtin described himself as "the people's contact with that tremendous entity in Washington D.C."

The congressman estimated that there were few days when he hasn't received several requests for help from residents of his district.

"I represent no special segment such as farm or labor," Curtin said. "When I vote, I have in mind the good of my district as a whole."

National Issues

The Levittown Exchange was the host club for the luncheon. Last week the club hosted a similar meeting at which Democrat Donald V. Hock, who is opposing Curtin for the Eighth Congressional seat, was the guest speaker. In his talk yesterday, Congressman Curtin hammered away at national issues.

"Contrary to what some people might tell you, the Republican Party is not callous toward the people's welfare," he said. He rated the GOP bill for aid to depressed areas superior to that of the Democrats.

Curtin quoted figures in citing the increase in employment and wages during the eight years of the Republican administration.

"During our administration employment has increased from 55.2 million persons to 67.4 million," he said. "And wages have gone up from $4,700 to $5,500 on an average," the congressman added.

Economical Growth

Congressman Curtin said that America's economical growth has kept pace with that of Russia.

"Certainly the Russians can

Twp. Police Hold Man On Dope Charge

A Philadelphia man arrested in Croydon Tuesday afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct now is being held on a narcotics charge, Bristol Township police said this morning.

The man was identified as Adam P. Bryzski, 44, 561 North Fifth St., Philadelphia. He was arrested by Ptl. Robert Clark after police received a complaint that he was apparently intoxicated in the 1200 block of State Road.

The suspect reportedly attempted to attack Clark when the arrest was made, the police said, and it was out of the attempted attack that the disorderly conduct charge grew.

Clark searched the man for identification at the office of Justice of the Peace Joseph M. Haines and it was then that the officer found the drug, ephedrine sulphate, called "goofballs" by narcotics agents.

Suspect Hospitalized

Clark said only one of the "goofballs" remained in Bryzski's possession when the vial which had contained them was found in his pocket. The police officer said the suspect apparently had taken 10 of the drug tablets all at once just before he was arrested.

GOP Committee Wants Boyer To Take Leave

Great Debate Dominated By Islands Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy kept their Quemoy-Matsu dispute boiling today along with a new argument over whether their farm programs would cost more tax money or raise food prices.

In last night's third chapter of their scheduled four debates, Kennedy and Nixon remained as far apart as they were a week ago about the defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands.

Like the previous two debates, the third was carried by all three television and four radio networks. Nixon spoke from Los Angeles and Kennedy from New York. The candidates were questioned by a panel of four newsmen in Los Angeles—in a separate studio from Nixon.

Nixon said the latest encounter was "good and fast-moving, a good clash." Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton declared that "Nixon again was the clear winner." Kennedy merely said it was "an interesting evening" but Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, said the Democratic nominee and his staff were "highly pleased and feel that this was his best performance of the three debates."

Cites Opposition Officials

Minutes after the program ended, the rival candidates tangled in a dispute over whether Kennedy had followed the ground rules for the debate. Nixon charged that Kennedy had violated an agreement by using notes. Kennedy denied he had used notes and said he had referred only to two documents, including a letter written by President Eisenhower, to be sure he was quoting them accurately.

On the Quemoy-Matsu issue, Kennedy again cited authorities or formerly in the Eisenhower administration to support his argument that the Chinese Nationalist-held islands were indefensible. He charged Nixon with trying to stretch the terms of administration policy and the U.S. treaty with the Chinese Nationalists and said there was no unconditional pledge to defend the offshore islands from attack by Communists on the Chinese mainland.

The vice president replied that Kennedy's program would lead not to peace but to war because any concession to the Communists would lead only to new demands.

He did appear to put himself more closely in line with the Eisenhower position. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Claghorn May Debate Nixon

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will visit Lower Bucks County Saturday, Oct. 22 and on the same evening the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual dinner-dance at the Warrington Country Club.

It is possible that the Republican candidate for president will drop in at the Warrington. If so, Senator Claghorn (Kenny Delmar), that phony but hilarious senator of TV and movie fame, will be waiting on the threshold to greet the Vice President. It could be the debate of the century.

It is a known fact that Nixon is backed by the Republican Party. Senator Claghorn, on the other hand, is backed by the Headshrinker's Union, the Benevolent Brotherhood of Beatniks and several other unique organizations. At any rate, the Senator has been hired to provide the lighter side of the program for the evening. Maynard J. Rich, outgoing president of the Lower Bucks Chamber of Commerce, has promised that the business session of the evening will be exceptionally brief. Social hour will be from 6 to 7 o'clock followed by dinner. Dancing will be from 9 to midnight.

Cornerstone Opening Reveals 83-Year-Old Papers, Pennies

By BOB REINHARDT
Courier-Times Staff Writer

An airtight lead box, freed from the remains of the old Bucks County Courthouse and unsealed yesterday before a group of

Bucks County officials, yielded a small jackpot for Minority County Commissioner Adolph A. Andrews.

The box, enclosed in the cornerstone for 83 years, was shaken

free from the stone and then cut open.

Andrews was not at the scene on Court St., Doylestown, when the box was opened or in the commissioners' conference room when its contents were inspected.

Three-Bladed Penknife

His gift was a three-bladed penknife, endowed by Gen. W. H. Davis, a Civil War leader who published the Bucks County Democrat and founded the Bucks County Historical Society.

Gen. Davis, who also placed several copies of his newspaper in the box when it was sealed Oct. 1877, stipulated that the knife was to go to the Democratic member of the county commissioners when the box was opened or if the board had two Democrats, to the party member elected with the most votes.

Chipped Lid

All four Bucks County Judges were on hand, with County Commissioner John J. Bodley, District Attorney Paul R. Beckert and other officials when William Carr, foreman for Robert Hawthorne, Inc., wrecking contractors clearing the site for a new judi-

Restricted Home UF Drive Planned

The Community Division Drive of the United Fund in Lower Bucks County will start Monday and continue for one week until Oct. 24, according to John Catzin, the United Fund's Lower Bucks Campaign Chairman.

The Community Division solicitation will be conducted on the discretionary basis, Catzin said.

"Campaign workers will not stop at homes where window stickers are displayed. Window stickers indicate the residents have given elsewhere, generally at their place of employment."

Burt Barshay, who heads the United Fund's Community Division drive for Levittown, said this program may provide the final funds needed to push the United Fund over the top. He said "Everyone who has not been given the opportunity to give at work, who is retired, who conducts a small business from his home, is thus given an opportunity to contribute to the 19 Red Feather Services that share in the United Fund's campaign." Morrisville's Oldest Native Son, Herman L. Margerum Dies At 90

Herman L. Margerum, Sr., Morrisville's oldest native resident, died this morning at the age of 90 in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, where he had been a patient since Monday. He lived at 423 Washington St.

A mason and contractor for 70 years, the number of buildings Mr. Margerum constructed in the borough is estimated at 1,000 by his son, Herman L. Margerum, Jr., president of the Morrisville Bank. Among them are the Stockham Building, Community House, the American Mechanics Building and the chapel in the Morrisville Cemetery which he called his own memorial.

He was a charter member and the first chief of the Union Fire

HERMAN MARGERUM

Company 1 and a charter member of the Morrisville Fish and Game Club for which he built the clubhouse on Hillcrest Ave.

His last construction job was the renovation of the Morrisville Bank in 1950, plans for which called for colonial stone work only he could supply.

Mr. Margerum was an expert shot and a trophy-winning trap shooter and played on the original Morrisville Reds baseball team before the turn of the century. In his youth he was a member of the Winklers and Ruhlmanns marching bands in Trenton.

Mr. Margerum's forefathers came to Morrisville from Bristol, England, in 1763. His father and grandfather were in construction (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Debates Four Hours

The Bucks County Republican Executive Committee last night asked Edward B. Boyer, county commission chairman who awaits court action on extortion and bribery charges, to take a leave of absence without pay.

The stand was taken in a four-hour meeting at the Warrington Golf and Country Club in a motion adopted by a vote that was reportedly 22 to 17. It was the third meeting in which the executive committee has debated what to do about Boyer since his arrest Sept. 20.

Spokesman's Statement

A party spokesman said the executive committee, in last night's action, "requests Boyer to take a leave of absence without pay until the charges against him are disposed of."

Last Saturday the committee tabled a similar motion and unanimously demanded that the grand jury be immediately recalled to act on the Boyer case.

The request to take a leave of absence is not binding upon Boyer. After the meeting, Boyer would not comment and said only that he may make a statement later.

Boyer Present

Boyer attended the meeting and spoke, apparently repeating his charge that his arrest was the result of a plot by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association to take over the Republican party, aided by Commissioner John J. Bodley. Bodley, also present, replied to this charge.

Newtown Justice of the Peace Leon Milnor last Friday held Boyer and Charles B. Meyers, deputy U. S. marshal, in $500 bail for the grand jury. They are charged with demanding and taking $150 a week from Elmer Bauso, owner of Butch's Market, Trevose, for providing immunity from arrest for violations of the Sunday Blue Laws.

Both pleaded not guilty. Before last night's meeting, Boyer declared he would not take a leave of absence. He said it would be "tantamount to admitting the validity of the charges." He said he would "force a showdown" at last night's Republican meeting.

Some Defend Boyer

Executive committee members from Lower Bucks have defended Boyer against action demanding that he take the leave or resign. Regional caucuses were held during last night's meeting. Before it convened, several committee members had dinner at the county club.

The meeting was held in the basement behind a door marked "Ladies Lounge." A sergeant-at-arms guarded the doors to restrict the meeting to committee members. Just before adjournment Boyer, Dr. George Shaffer (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Fairless Hills Fans Whoop It Up For 'Their' Pirates

Transplanted Pittsburgher Andy Brown, 402 Chelsea Road, Fairless Hills, gives way to unrestrained joy to celebrate the Pirates' World Series victory. The crowds were large and boisterous in Fairless Hills where a sizeable colony of Buc rooters had alternated between deep gloom and jubilation since the Series began. Brown, Little League director, also celebrated the world championship won by the Levittown American Little Leaguers.

Pirate rooters don't always come from Pittsburgh. Tom Hopkin (seated) of 113 Elmwood Road, Fairless Hills, isn't a native Pittsburgher, but he's a loyal Buc fan anyway as this celebration in the Hopkin yard shows. Friends and neighbors all gave spirited support when the Buc beat 'em. Festivities in Fairless Hills lasted until about 10 p.m. when, Pirate fans claim, unhappy Yankee fans prevailed upon the local gendarmes to break it up. In most cases the festivities merely moved indoors. John Galbreath, president of the Pirates, is also president of the Danherst Corporation, which built Fairless Hills, giving the whole celebration a sort of family tree atmosphere. And there's no doubt the No. 1 tune today on the Fairless Hills hit parade is a little ditty entitled "The Buccos Had 'Em All The Way."

Too young to remember the evil days when the Pirates were called "Rickey-dinks," these Fairless Hills tots are happy, but scarcely surprised that the Buc became world champs. Gary Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grimes; and Katie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown, have long heard their parents refer to Murtaugh, Groat and company as baseball heroes. Three More Groups To Get UF Plaques

Additional Plaque Award winners were announced today by John Catzin, general chairman of the Lower Bucks County United Fund Campaign, as a result of the unprecedented 48 per cent of goal at the first report meeting Wednesday.

They include Greenwood Dairies employees, with Paul Sauerby as manager; employees of the United Fund Headquarters and employees of the Lower Bucks County Chapter of the American Red Cross, each of which have contributed at least 30 per cent over their fair share goals of one day's pay per employee and one per cent of gross annual salary for directorial staffs.

The Pennsbury School system, Dr. Charles Muschell, superintendent, will definitely top its fair share goal before the week's end as the result of more reports following Wednesday's enthusiastic meeting.

Bristol Township - Delhaas Schools may also qualify as Plaque Award winners by the end of the week as major increases in the school's employee giving continue to be reported by the system.

Clark said ephedrine sulphate is a prescription-requiring drug which is used in the treatment of asthma and other respiratory illnesses.

Bank notes issued by several Bucks County banks were also enclosed in the lead box, with pieces of American Continental money that were more than 100 years old in 1877.

Other relics brought to light yesterday after 83 years in the box were:

senhower administration's policy, which has viewed the islands only as an area of battle if an attack on them should be a prelude to an assault on Formosa.

The dispute about financing farm programs developed from a question to Kennedy about the cost of the Democratic platform.

Would Cut Program

Kennedy said the Nixon farm plan would cost $1.5 to $2 billion more than the present program and that his would cost $1 billion less.

Nixon said Kennedy's farm program would result in a 25 per cent increase in food prices which would be part of the cost of the program.

Kennedy rejected this estimate and said a given percentage increase in the price of a farm product would not mean an equally high percentage increase in retail food prices.

On other budget items, Kennedy said he would hope to lower interest rate costs by $1 billion a year, increase federal revenue almost $1 billion by closing tax loopholes. He also stuck to his plan to finance medical care for the aged under the Social Security program, and said the administration program favored by Nixon would take $1 billion a year from the Treasury.

Nixon said the medical care plan would have to be paid for from taxes or other levies. He also contended that Kennedy's proposal for lower interest rates would lead to inflation and higher prices.

Committee Relieved

The executive committee members seemed relieved when the meeting ended. One commented that the action will "clear the atmosphere." Bodley said he was satisfied with the meeting.

Bodley previously had suggested such a leave of absence and had argued for this action and Boyer had countered with a demand that Bodley, as a "tool of the PMA," resign himself.

Levittown Theatre Faces Closing Unless Taxes Paid

By KENNETH J. RABBen
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Levittown Borough's five school directors voted unanimously at this week's meeting to enforce a provision of their amusement tax regulation that could close the Towne Theatre.

The board motion, made by Morris Feldman, states, "That the board solicitor (William H. Conca) be instructed to notify the Towne Theatre that if all monies due the school district in amusement taxes and interest are not paid on or before Oct. 24 that the school directors of the Borough of Tullytown will immediately enforce section three, part 'D' of the 1960-61 amusement tax resolution."

That portion of the tax resolution cited by Feldman says the school district may revoke the amusement tax permit if the provisions of the resolution are not complied with. Non-payment of the tax established by the resolution is a violation, the board said.

Amusement tax permits are issued by the borough tax collector and the permit issued to Towne Theatre owner Melvin J. Fox was renewed this year, the board said.

Should Fox not pay the board the money owed for the past 1959-60 tax year, amounting to between $12,000 and $15,000, Arthur Leigh, borough tax collector can request the permit be surrendered.

Borough Chief of Police Jack Waltherick would then be notified the motion picture house was operating without a permit, and be asked to close the theatre, the board explained.

Provides For Hearing
The tax resolution also provides for a hearing to be held on the revocation of a permit, if the

Civic Group

the safety hazard along the two residential streets but that it also would shorten the bus route by about a quarter of a mile.

It also would provide much quicker access to the school for fire engines and other emergency vehicles, Potena added.

Board Chairman R. Philemon Stout told Potena and Stanley Felkner, 3512 Llandberis Ave., president of the citizens' association, that the board would take their proposal under advisement.

Stout added, however, that the strip of land over which the driveway would have to be built crosses a baseball field and that construction of the driveway might create more problems than it would solve.

Middletown Cubs To Visit Annapolis

Cub Pack 116 of Middletown Township's Walter S. Miller School, will journey to Annapolis, Md. tomorrow.

Parents are advised that the boys will leave at 7 a.m. and return at 9:30 p.m. All cubs are expected to bring a lunch, but dinner will be furnished by the pack. Parents have been requested to meet the boys at the school upon their return.

permit's owner asks for one, but the permit can be recalled before such a hearing. Following a hearing, the permit could be returned, the tax resolution says.

Board member Anthony Ciccantelli, who voted for the motion, termed the current Towne Theatre situation, "absolutely ridiculous."

"It's our money and the money of the people who go to the movies. I want every penny due us and Fox will have to wait a long time for a settlement," Ciccantelli said.

Feldman said Conca told the board it legally could not settle the Towne Theatre claim for 7 per cent, rather than the 10 per cent specified in the current tax resolution.

Agreement With Previous Board
"Fox said he wanted to pay 7 per cent because of an agreement with the previous school board, but he's been collecting 10 per cent Feldman stated.

The borough amusement tax had been set several years ago at 7 per cent. The present school board raised the tax to 10 per cent.

Board secretary William Swangler said, "This money has been paid by the residents and doesn't even belong to him (Fox)."

Feldman expressed doubt that the theatre owner would keep the movie closed. If the theatre is closed, a lien can be filed against the property and equipment in the building and a sheriff's sale held to recover the debt, Feldman explained.

September Tax

Board members reported receipt from Fox of a $1,582.49 check in payment of September's amusement tax.

Including payments for July, August and September, Fox has sent the board about $4,400 in amusement taxes for the 1960-61 school year, the school director said.

A special school board meeting was called for Oct. 24, Fox's last day to pay his delinquent 1959-60 school year amusement taxes. Should the tax be paid, the meeting probably will be cancelled.

Notice Of Intention

Paul R. Beckert, Fox's attorney, this week filed in Bucks County Court, a notice of intention to sue Ciccantelli and Feldman.

Beckert said when the formal suit is filed, it will be for slanderous statements made at the Sept. 14 school board meeting.

Feldman said last night he had received a summons stating Fox's intent to start legal action.

Ciccantelli, who teaches school in Philadelphia, reported the sheriff had been to his house during the day, but has as yet not been formally served the summons. He said, "Mr. Fox better be very, very sure of what he says otherwise he'll have a countersuit on his hands."

Going In Circles

By Kenneth J. Rabben

Tullytown Borough can be found in places other than its physical location. Sharp-eyed newspaper readers Wednesday discovered the borough's name in Hedda Hopper's syndicated "Hollywood" column.

Hedda noted the Walt Disney left filmdom by train and would halt at Marceline, Mo., an unscheduled stop. Disney is to dedicate an elementary school there, the third in the country named for him.

Hollywood's happy hatter mentioned that another Disney School is located in Tullytown's Levittown section. She also pointed out the film cartoonist has decorated the "all-purpose" rooms in all schools bearing his name. The local school opened in 1953. For the past two years, Disney has donated $500 to the school.

Levittown Fire Co., No. 2 members reported large crowds of youngsters and parents attending the Fire Prevention Week open house Wednesday night.

Three movies dealing with fire prevention were shown. Fire Chief Jack Lewin questioned the boys and girls about the pictures after the show and said the children retained a great many important facts. Chevy Bryan explained the role of the fire police. Fire Company officials said credit for the large turnout should go to local scout leaders and interested parents.

Lower Bucks County's "Citizens For Kennedy" committee opened a new campaign headquarters today. The new office is located next to the Towne Theatre in a huge house trailer.

Tim Fahey, Levittown Kiwanis Club director, whose steamroller energies were curtailed when he became ill last week, did get something other than ill at the recent Kiwanis district convention in "Buc-town."

Fahey was elected Lieutenant-Governor of the 18th Division, Pennsylvania District, Kiwanis International, a post he's wanted ever since he joined the service organization years ago.

Tim's illness came during the busiest time of the year for his advertising agency, but the mirthful Levittown resident said he's conducting his business at home.

He expressed deep appreciation this morning to the many residents who have telephoned or written to wish him a speedy recovery.

John M. Weasner

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. for John M. Weasner 79, of 130 South State St., Newtown, who died Thursday at the home of his son Edward, in Newtown.

A native Newtownian, he was the husband of the late Mrs. Mary Wright Weasner, and the son of the late Edward B. and Mary Morrissey Weasner. He was a retired barber and was employed many years at the Clayton Teller barber shop in Newtown, where upon the death of the owner, he took over the business and operated the shop until his retirement several years ago.

He was a member of the Newtown Methodist Church and an exempt member of the Newtown Fire Association.

Surviving are three daughters, the Misses Alice J. and Ruth J. Newtown and Mrs. Mary Keyser, New Hope; six sons, Edward B., Clarence B., William H., of Newtown; and James C., Willow Grove; Amos T., Pennel; and John M. Weasner Jr., Langhorne. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Ella Reck, and two brothers, George and Samuel Weasner, all of Trenton; and 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services will be from the Stacy B. Brown Funeral Home, 323 East Washington Ave., Newtown, with Rev. David G. High of the Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be in Newtown Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

In Memoriam

WALTER ROBINSON — "Peanut". In loving memory of my dear son, who passed away three years ago today, October 14, 1957.

Three years has passed, my heart's still sore
As time goes on I miss you more
If all the world were mine to give
I'd give it, yes and more
To see the face of my dear son
Come smiling through my door
Please God forgive a silent tear
A constant longing that he were here
There are others, yes I know
But he was mine, and I miss him so.
Sadly missed by Mother.

WALTER ROBINSON — "Peanut". In loving memory of our dear son, who passed away three years ago today, October 14, 1957.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dear and loved by all
His loving heart has ceased to beat
Before we knew it he was gone
A bitter grief, a shock severe
To part with one we loved so dear
God loved him too and thought it best
So he took him home to eternal rest.

Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.

Man Pleads Guilty

To Morrisville Theft

Howard Whitely, 25, of Downingtown RD 1, was committed yesterday to Bucks County Prison by Justice of the Peace Stephen Nieckowski, Middletown Township, on charges of burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Whitely pleaded guilty, Nieckowski said, to the charges brought by Falls Township Police Lieutenant Julius Maszaros.

Held for the next session of court Whitely admitted taking 25 bank drafts from the premises of the Wilson Freight Forwarding Company, Pennsylvania Ave., Morrisville, on Sept. 2, Nieckowski reported.

Lower Bucks Petitions For Better Coverage

A petition bearing the names of Lower Bucks residents requesting better public transportation coverage for Lower Bucks County has been delivered to the Public Utility Commission in Harrisburg, Bensalem Democratic committeewoman Beatrice Shapiro, said today.

Miss Shapiro said that the petition was delivered today to the commission by Democratic Assemblyman James J. A. Gallagher. Residents are requesting more frequent and wider area coverage, the committeewoman said.

Miss Shapiro said that the commission will arrange a public hearing in this area within the next few weeks.

A petition sent the commission two months ago was returned with a request for detailed information regarding public transportation service. It bore the signatures of some 200 Lower Bucks residents.

Congressman Speaks To Service Clubs

Congressman Willard S. Curtin, (from left), yesterday afternoon discussed his re-election campaign with Charles D. Coupland, Bristol Rotary Club secretary; Art Hecht, Levittown Exchange Club board of control member; Bert Rearick, Levittown-Fairless Hills rotary Club vice president and George Morris, Levittown Lions Club vice president. The Exchange Club has played host to all local service clubs at a series of luncheon meetings featuring political candidates as guest speakers. (Courier-Times Photo)

Curtin Cites His Local Experience

By JIM STANTON
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Congressman Willard S. Curtin told 80 members of local service clubs yesterday that during his years as congressman, district attorney, and lawyer, he has come to know the problems of the Bucks - Lehigh area. He then asked their support in the coming November elections.

Speaking to the Levittown Exchange and Lions clubs, the Levittown - Fairless Hills Rotary and the Bristol Rotary, at the Pennsylvania Inn, Congressman Curtin described himself as "the people's contact with that tremendous entity in Washington D.C."

Good Evening!

All quiet on the western front.

Merely a gigantic headache out in Pittsburgh, that is, the day after the first before.

Well sir, we did our best for Mr. Casey Stengel, but the world championship Pirates did a little better, and we guess that's the way the ball bounces.

President Eisenhower celebrating his 70th birthday anniversary today.

Okay, happy birthday to Ike with best wishes for many, many more of the same. Maybe once he's moved from the White House he could give a bit more time on the golf course to shooting his age?

Khrushchev back home, thank heavens.

Something of a maddening experience for him at U.N., we suspect. Maybe to the Commies he's a dictator. But to the rest of the world he's merely another character needing an occasional kick in the stern. And he got 'em - plenty.

Another good Nixon - Kennedy TV show last night.

But to a great degree not much more than a re-run. A rehash of everything said at the convention and since, with the exception of the Quemoy - Matsu issue, sort of tossed in as an after-thought to beef up the argument.

Autumn skies couldn't be more perfect.

And a dandy weekend for stimulating your esthetic impulses by glimpsing the foliage, getting prettier by the day.

Odd but true: A lot of people never exercise anything but caution.

Today a child is something between an adult and a TV set.

We never used to be able to find Grandma's glasses. But now she leaves 'em right where she emptied them.

If you drive, be careful.

for help from residents of his district.

"I represent no special segment such as farm or labor," Curtin said. "When I vote, I have in mind the good of my district as a whole."

National Issues
The Levittown Exchange was the host club for the luncheon. Last week the club hosted a similar meeting at which Democrat Donald V. Hock, who is opposing Curtin for the Eighth Congressional seat, was the guest speaker.

In his talk yesterday, Congressman Curtin hammered away at national issues.

"Contrary to what some people might tell you, the Republican Party is not callous toward the people's welfare," he said. He rated the GOP bill for aid to depressed areas superior to that of the Democrats.

Curtin quoted figures in citing the increase in employment and wages during the eight years of the Republican administration.

"During our administration employment has increased from 55.2 million persons to 67.4 million," he said. "And wages have gone up from $4.700 to $5.500 on an average," the congressman added.

Economical Growth
Congressman Curtin said that America's economical growth has kept pace with that of Russia.

Civic Group Urges Access Driveway

The Bristol Township School Board last night took under consideration a suggestion from the Llandberis Group, a West Bristol civic association, that an access driveway for school buses be built from Route 413 to the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Junior High School grounds.

The buses now must travel from Route 413 along Llandberis Ave. and into Snowden St. to approach the school from the highway. This route, according to the citizens' group, endangers the safety of children and others who play or walk along the two streets.

Joseph Potena, 3509 Llandberis Ave., spokesman for the association and the father of two boys and a girl, declared at last night's school board meeting that he has been trying for three years to have the board change the bus route. He said the board owns a 50-foot-wide strip of land from the highway directly to the school property and that this land could be used as a driveway.

Potena said that not only would the proposed driveway eliminate (Continued On Page 3, Col. 6)

Who Will Win?

TIMES To Conduct Presidential Poll

Who will be our next President - Nixon or Kennedy? Who will be the choice of the people in Lower Bucks? We won't know definitely until election night, Nov. 8. But here's your chance to help the Courier-Times find out, in advance, as closely as possible.

Starting Monday, the Courier-Times will conduct a straw ballot on the presidential race.

Make a check mark next to your favorite, cut the ballot out and paste it on the back of a postcard. Then mail it to the Courier-Times.

Route 13, Levittown. You don't have to sign the ballot. However, there will be a space for you to show in which municipality you live. Thus there should be a good indication of the candidates strongholds and weak areas.

The ballot will appear in the Courier-Times all week. We will keep you posted on the day-to-day returns.

Vote in the Courier-Times straw ballot for the candidate of your choice, and watch the results. And to keep things accurate, vote only once.

GOP Committee Wants Boyer To Take Leave

Great Debate Dominated By Islands Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy kept their Quemoy-Matsu dispute boiling today along with a new argument over whether their farm programs would cost more tax money or raise food prices.

In last night's third chapter of their scheduled four debates, Kennedy and Nixon remained as far apart as they were a week ago about the defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands.

Like the previous two debates, the third was carried by all three television and four radio networks. Nixon spoke from Los Angeles and Kennedy from New York. The candidates were questioned by a panel of four newsmen in Los Angeles—in a separate studio from Nixon.

Nixon said the latest encounter was "good and fast-moving, a good clash." Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton declared that "Nixon again was the clear winner." Kennedy merely said it was "an interesting evening" but Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, said the Democratic nominee and his staff were "highly pleased and feel that this was his best performance of the three debates."

Cites Opposition Officials

Minutes after the program ended, the rival candidates tangled in a dispute over whether Kennedy had followed the ground rules for the debate. Nixon charged that Kennedy had violated an agreement by using notes. Kennedy denied he had used notes and said he had referred only to two documents, including a letter written by President Eisenhower, to be sure he was quoting them accurately.

On the Quemoy-Matsu issue, Kennedy again cited authorities in or formerly in the Eisenhower administration to support his argument that the Chinese Nationalist-held islands were indefensible.

He charged Nixon with trying to stretch the terms of administration policy and the U.S. treaty with the Chinese Nationalists and said there was no unconditional pledge to defend the offshore islands from attack by Communists on the Chinese mainland.

The vice president replied that Kennedy's program would lead not to peace but to war because any concession to the Communists would lead only to new demands.

He did appear to put himself more closely in line with the Eisenhower position. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Claghorn May Debate Nixon

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will visit Lower Bucks County Saturday, Oct. 22 and on the same evening the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual dinner - dance at the Warrington Country Club.

It is possible that the Republican candidate for president will drop in at the Warrington. If so, Senator Claghorn (Kenny Delmar), that phony but hilarious senator of TV and movie fame, will be waiting on the threshold to greet the Vice President. It could be the debate of the century.

It is a known fact that Nixon is backed by the Republican Party. Senator Claghorn, on the other hand, is backed by the Head-shrinker's Union, the Benevolent Brotherhood of Beatiniks and several other unique organizations. At any rate, the Senator has been hired to provide the lighter side of the program for the evening.

Maynard J. Rich, outgoing president of the Lower Bucks Chamber of Commerce, has promised that the business session of the evening will be exceptionally brief. Social hour will be from 6 to 7 o'clock followed by dinner. Dancing will be from 9 to midnight.

Democrat Gets A Penknife

Cornerstone Opening Reveals 83-Year-Old Papers, Pennies

By BOB REINHARDT
Courier-Times Staff Writer

An airtight lead box, freed from the remains of the old Bucks County Courthouse and unsealed yesterday before a group of

Bucks County officials, yielded a small jackpot for Minority County Commissioner Adolph A. Andrews.

The box, enclosed in the cornerstone for 83 years, was shaken

free from the stone and then cut open.

Andrews was not at the scene on Court St., Doylestown, when the box was opened or in the commissioners' conference room when its contents were inspected.

Three-Bladed Penknife
His gift was a three-bladed penknife, endowed by Gen. W. W. H. Davis, a Civil War leader who published the Bucks County Democrat and founded the Bucks County Historical Society.

Gen. Davis, who also placed several copies of his newspaper in the box when it was sealed Oct. 1877, stipulated that the knife was to go to the Democratic member of the county commissioners when the box was opened or if the board had two Democrats, to the party member elected with the most votes.

Chipped Lid
All four Bucks County Judges were on hand, with County Commissioner John J. Bodley, District Attorney Paul R. Beckert and other officials when William Carr, foreman for Robert Hawthorne, Inc., wrecking contractors clearing the site for a new judicial building, chipped the lid.

Restricted Home UF Drive Planned

The Community Division Drive of the United Fund in Lower Bucks County will start Monday and continue for one week until Oct. 24, according to John Catzin, the United Fund's Lower Bucks Campaign Chairman.

The Community Division solicitation will be conducted on the discretionary basis, Catzin said. "Campaign workers will not stop at homes where window stickers are displayed. Window stickers indicate the residents have given elsewhere, generally at their place of employment." But Barshay, who heads the United Fund's Community Division drive for Levittown, said this program may provide the final funds needed to push the United Fund over the top. He said "Everyone who has not been given the opportunity to give at work, who is retired, who conducts a small business from his home, is thus given an opportunity to contribute to the 19 Red Feather Services that share in the United Fund's campaign." Morrisville's Oldest Native Son, Herman L. Margerum Dies At 90

Herman L. Margerum, Sr., Morrisville's oldest native resident, died this morning at the age of 90 in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, where he had been a patient since Monday. He lived at 423 Washington St.

A mason and contractor for 70 years, the number of buildings Mr. Margerum constructed in the borough is estimated at 1,000 by his son, Herman L. Margerum, Jr., president of the Morrisville Bank. Among them are the Stockham Building, Community House, the American Mechanics Building and the chapel in the Morrisville Cemetery which he called his own memorial.

He was a charter member and the first chief of the Union Fire

HERMAN MARGERUM

Company 1 and a charter member of the Morrisville Fish and Game Club for which he built the clubhouse on Hillcrest Ave. His last construction job was the renovation of the Morrisville Bank in 1950, plans for which called for colonial stone work only he could supply.

Mr. Margerum was an expert shot and a trophy-winning trap shooter and played on the original Morrisville Reds baseball team before the turn of the century. In his youth he was a member of the Winklers and Ruhlmanns marching bands in Trenton. Mr. Margerum's forefathers came to Morrisville from Bristol, England, in 1763. His father and grandfather were in construction (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Debates Four Hours

The Bucks County Republican Executive Committee last night asked Edward B. Boyer, county commission chairman who awaits court action on extortion and bribery charges, to take a leave of absence without pay.

The stand was taken in a four-hour meeting at the Warrington Golf and Country Club in a motion adopted by a vote that was reportedly 22 to 17. It was the third meeting in which the executive committee has debated what to do about Boyer since his arrest Sept. 20.

Spokesman's Statement

A party spokesman said the executive committee, in last night's action, "requests Boyer to take a leave of absence without pay until the charges against him are disposed of."

Last Saturday the committee tabled a similar motion and unanimously demanded that the grand jury be immediately recalled to act on the Boyer case.

The request to take a leave of absence is not binding upon Boyer. After the meeting, Boyer would not comment and said only that he may make a statement later.

Boyer Present

Boyer attended the meeting and spoke, apparently repeating his charge that his arrest was the result of a plot by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association to take over the Republican party, aided by Commissioner John J. Bodley. Bodley, also present, replied to this charge.

Newtown Justice of the Peace Leon Milnor last Friday held Boyer and Charles B. Meyers, deputy U. S. marshal, in $500 bail for the grand jury. They are charged with demanding and taking $150 a week from Elmer Bauso, owner of Butch's Market, Trevose, for providing immunity from arrest for violations of the Sunday Blue Laws.

Both pleaded not guilty. Before last night's meeting, Boyer declared he would not take a leave of absence. He said it would be "tantamount to admitting the validity of the charges." He said he would "force a showdown" at last night's Republican meeting.

Some Defend Boyer

Executive committee members from Lower Bucks have defended Boyer against action demanding that he take the leave or resign. Regional caucuses were held during last night's meeting. Before it convened, several committee members had dinner at the country club.

The meeting was held in the basement behind a door marked "Ladies Lounge." A sergeant-at-arms guarded the doors to restrict the meeting to committee members. Just before adjournment Boyer, Dr. George Shaffer (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Fairless Hills Fans Whoop It Up For 'Their' Pirates

Transplanted Pittsburgher Andy Brown, 402 Chelsea Road, Fairless Hills, gives way to unrestrained joy to celebrate the Pirates' World Series victory. The crowds were large and boisterous in Fairless Hills where a sizeable colony of Buc rooters had alternated between deep gloom and jubilation since the Series began. Brown, Little League director, also celebrated the world championship won by the Levittown American Little Leaguers.

Pirate rooters don't always come from Pittsburgh. Tom Hopkin (seated) of 113 Elmwood Road, Fairless Hills, isn't a native Pittsburgher, but he's a loyal Buc fan anyway as this celebration in the Hopkin yard shows. Friends and neighbors all gave spirited support when the Bucs beat 'em. Festivities in Fairless Hills lasted until about 10 p.m. when, Pirate fans claim, unhappy Yankee fans prevailed upon the local gendarmes to break it up. In most cases the festivities merely moved indoors. John Galbreath, president of the Pirates, is also president of the Danherst Corporation, which built Fairless Hills, giving the whole celebration a sort of family tree atmosphere. And there's no doubt the No. 1 tune today on the Fairless Hills hit parade is a little ditty entitled "The Buccos Had 'Em All The Way."

Too young to remember the evil days when the Pirates were called "Rickey-dinks," these Fairless Hills tots are happy, but scarcely surprised that the Bucs became world champs. Gary Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grimes; and Katie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown, have long heard their parents refer to Murtaugh, Groat and company as baseball heroes. Three More Groups To Get UF Plaques

Additional Plaque Award winners were announced today by John Catzin, general chairman of the Lower Bucks County United Fund Campaign, as a result of the unprecedented 48 per cent of goal at the first report meeting Wednesday.

They include Greenwood Dairies employees, with Paul Sauerbrey as manager; employees of the United Fund Headquarters and employees of the Lower Bucks County Chapter of the American Red Cross, each of which have contributed at least 30 per cent over their fair share goals of one day's pay per employee and one per cent of gross annual salary for directorial staffs.

The Pennsylvania School system, Dr. Charles Muschell, superintendent, will definitely top its fair share goal before the week's end as the result of more reports following Wednesday's enthusiastic meeting.

Bristol Township - Delhaas Schools may also qualify as Plaque Award winners by the end of the week as major increases in the school's employee giving continue to be reported by the system.

Bryzski was sentenced to 29 days in Bucks County Prison on the disorderly conduct charge. The charge of possessing and using dangerous drugs will be heard before JP Rene Tritschler at a later date.

Clark said ephedrine sulphate is a prescription-requiring drug which is used in the treatment of asthma and other respiratory illnesses.

Clerk of the Works, Wesley C. Erven took the box up to the commissioners' room on the fifth floor of the new County Administration Building. There, Bodley emptied the box and removed and recorded the mementos, with Judge Lawrence A. Monroe among the interested onlookers.

Inscribed Medal
Attached to Andrews' gift was a medal inscribed with the name of Bucks County Commissioner A. J. Solomon, of New Hope, also a Democrat.

Bank notes issued by several Bucks County banks were also enclosed in the lead box, with pieces of American Continental money that were more than 100 years old in 1877.

Other relics brought to light yesterday after 83 years in the box were:

A lithograph picture of the courthouse made by its architects, Hutton and Ord, of Philadelphia.

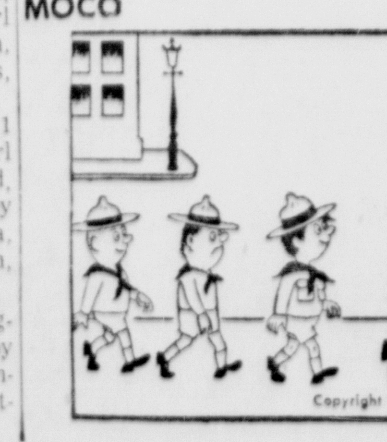

An 1865 Indian Head penny.
Copies of the Bucks County Rules of Court of 1873, Smull's Legislative Handbook, published in 1877.

Court papers relating to the last legal proceedings in the previous courthouse, which was constructed nearby in 1812, argument and civil court lists of 1877.

A civil court jury verdict giving the plaintiff $42.40 plus six cents costs.
The Bucks County Mirror and other Doylestown newspapers, including two published in the German language.

A telegram sent from a Philadelphia supplier to the courthouse contractor J. B. Doyle, the day the cornerstone was laid saying: "All five feet, six inch lintels gone here. How many four foot lintels do you want?"

Debate Adds

senhower administration's policy, which has viewed the islands only as an area of battle if an attack on them should be a prelude to an assault on Formosa.

The dispute about financing farm programs developed from a question to Kennedy about the cost of the Democratic platform.

Would Cut Program

Kennedy said the Nixon farm plan would cost $1.5 to $2 billion more than the present program and that his would cost $1 billion less.

Nixon said Kennedy's farm program would result in a 25 per cent increase in food prices which would be part of the cost of the program.

Kennedy rejected this estimate and said a given percentage increase in the price of a farm product would not mean an equally high percentage increase in retail food prices.

On other budget items, Kennedy said he would hope to lower interest rate costs by $1 billion a year, increase federal revenue almost $1 billion by closing tax loopholes. He also stuck to his plan to finance medical care for the aged under the Social Security program, and said the administration program favored by Nixon would take $1 billion a year from the Treasury.

Nixon said the medical care plan would have to be paid for from taxes or other levies. He also contended that Kennedy's proposal for lower interest rates would lead to inflation and higher prices.

Committee Relieved

The executive committee members seemed relieved when the meeting ended. One commented that the action will "clear the atmosphere." Bodley said he was satisfied with the meeting.

Bodley previously had suggested such a leave of absence and had argued for this action and Boyer had countered with a demand that Bodley, as a "tool of the PMA," resign himself.

False Alarm Sounded At Roosevelt School

Levittown Theatre Faces Closing Unless Taxes Paid

By KENNETH J. RABBEEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Tullytown Borough's five school directors voted unanimously at this week's meeting to enforce a provision of their amusement tax regulation that could close the Towne Theatre.

The board motion, made by Morris Feldman, states, "That the board solicitor (William H. Conca) be instructed to notify the Towne Theatre that if all monies due the school district in amusement taxes and interest are not paid on or before Oct. 24 that the school directors of the Borough of Tullytown will immediately enforce section three, part 'D' of the 1960-61 amusement tax resolution."

That portion of the tax resolution cited by Feldman says the school district may revoke the amusement tax permit if the provisions of the resolution are not complied with. Non-payment of the tax established by the resolution is a violation, the board said.

Renewed This Year

Amusement tax permits are issued by the borough tax collector and the permit issued to Towne Theatre owner Melvin J. Fox was renewed this year, the board said.

Should Fox not pay the board the money owed for the past 1959-60 tax year, amounting to between $12,000 and $15,000, Arthur Leigh, borough tax collector can request the permit be surrendered.

Borough Chief of Police Jack Waltherick would then be notified the motion picture house was operating without a permit, and be asked to close the theatre, the board explained.

Provides For Hearing

The tax resolution also provides for a hearing to be held on the revocation of a permit, if the

Civic Group

the safety hazard along the two residential streets but that it also would shorten the bus route by about a quarter of a mile.

It also would provide much quicker access to the school for fire engines and other emergency vehicles, Potena added.

Board Chairman R. Philemon Stout told Potena and Stanley Felkner, 3512 Llandberis Ave., president of the citizens' association, that the board would take their proposal under advisement.

Stout added, however, that the strip of land over which the driveway would have to be built crosses a baseball field and that construction of the driveway might create more problems than it would solve.

Middletown Cubs To Visit Annapolis

Cub Pack 116 of Middletown Township's Walter S. Miller School, will journey to Annapolis, Md. tomorrow.

Parents are advised that the boys will leave at 7 a.m. and return at 9:30 p.m. All cubs are expected to bring a lunch, but dinner will be furnished by the pack. Parents have been requested to meet the boys at the school upon their return.

permit's owner asks for one, but the permit can be recalled before such a hearing. Following a hearing, the permit could be returned, the tax resolution says.

Board member Anthony Ciccantelli, who voted for the motion, termed the current Towne Theatre situation, "absolutely ridiculous."

"It's our money and the money of the people who go to the movies. I want every penny due us and Fox will have to wait a long time for a settlement," Ciccantelli said.

Feldman said Conca told the board it legally could not settle the Towne Theatre claim for 7 per cent, rather than the 10 per cent specified in the current tax resolution.

Agreement With Previous Board

"Fox said he wanted to pay 7 per cent because of an agreement with the previous school board, but he's been collecting 10 per cent Feldman stated.

The borough amusement tax had been set several years ago at 7 per cent. The present school board raised the tax to 10 per cent.

Board secretary William Swangley, said, "This money has been paid by the residents and doesn't even belong to him (Fox)."

Feldman expressed doubt that the theatre owner would keep the movie closed. If the theatre is closed, a lien can be filed against the property and equipment in the building and a sheriff's sale held to recover the debt, Feldman explained.

September Tax

Board members reported receipt from Fox of a $1,582.49 check in payment of September's amusement tax.

Including payments for July, August and September, Fox has sent the board about $4,400 in amusement taxes for the 1960-61 school year, the school director said.

A special school board meeting was called for Oct. 24, Fox's last day to pay his delinquent 1959-60 school year amusement taxes. Should the tax be paid, the meeting probably will be cancelled.

Notice Of Intention

Paul R. Beckert, Fox's attorney, this week filed in Bucks County Court, a notice of intention to sue Ciccantelli and Feldman.

Beckert said when the formal suit is filed, it will be for slanderous statements made at the Sept. 14 school board meeting.

Feldman said last night he had received a summons stating Fox's intent to start legal action.

Ciccantelli, who teaches school in Philadelphia, reported the sheriff had been to his house during the day, but has as yet not been formally served the summons. He said, "Mr. Fox better be very, very sure of what he says otherwise he'll have a court-suit on his hands."

Going in Circles

Tullytown Borough can be found in places other than its physical location, Sharp-eyed newspaper readers Wednesday discovered the borough's name in Hedda Hopper's syndicated "Hollywood" column.

Hedda noted the Walt Disneyesque film by train and would halt at Marceline, Mo., an unscheduled stop. Disney is to dedicate an elementary school there, the third in the country named for him.

Hollywood's happy hatter mentioned that another Disney School is located in Tullytown's Levittown section. She also pointed out the film cartoonist has decorated the "all-purpose" rooms in all schools bearing his name. The local school opened in 1953. For the past two years, Disney has donated $500 to the school.

Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 members reported large crowds of youngsters and parents attending the Fire Prevention Week open house Wednesday night.

Three movies dealing with fire prevention were shown. Fire Chief Jack Lewin questioned the boys and girls about the pictures after the show and said the children retained a great many important facts.

Chas. Bryan explained the role of the fire police.

Fire Company officials said credit for the large turnout should go to local scout leaders and interested parents.

Lower Bucks County's "Citizens For Kennedy" committee opened a new campaign headquarters today. The new office is located next to the Towne Theatre in a huge house trailer.

Tim Fahey, Levittown Kiwanis Club director, whose steamroller energies were curtailed when he became ill last week, did get something other than ill at the recent Kiwanis district convention in "Buc-town."

Fahey was elected Lieutenant Governor of the 18th Division, Pennsylvania District, Kiwanis International, a post he's wanted ever since he joined the service organization years ago.

Tim's illness came during the busiest time of the year for his advertising agency, but the mirthful Levittown resident said he's conducting his business at home.

He expressed deep appreciation this morning to the many residents who have telephoned or written to wish him a speedy recovery.

In Memoriam

WALTER ROBINSON — "Peanut". In loving memory of my dear son, who passed away three years ago today, October 14, 1957.

Three years has passed, my heart's still sore
As time goes on I miss you more
If all the world were mine to give
I'd give it, yes and more
To see the face of my dear son
Come smiling through my door
Please God forgive a silent tear
A constant longing that he were here
There are others, yes I know
But he was mine, and I miss him so.
Sadly missed by Mother.

WALTER ROBINSON — "Peanut". In loving memory of our dear son, who passed away three years ago today, October 14, 1957.

Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dear, loved by all
His loving heart has ceased to beat
Before we knew it he was gone
A bitter grief, a shock severe
To part with one we loved so dear
God loved him too and thought it best
So he took him home to eternal rest.

Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.
